

TENNESSEE BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS

POLICY REGARDING CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS UPON REINSTATEMENT

The Board of Medical Examiners recognizes that it may be difficult for some to maintain proof of many years of past continuing medical education, particularly as each state may have their own requirements regarding how many years back an audit may reach. Therefore, the Board requires those who have taken the active step to retire or inactivate their license to provide proof of the past two years of continuing medical education for an application for reactivation. The Board will require proof of four years of continuing medical education for an application for reinstatement where the licensee allowed their license to expire without action. An applicant for reactivation or reinstatement who has been out of practice for more than two years may be subject to any re-entry policy or guidelines the Board is using at the time of the reactivation or reinstatement request.

Adopted by the Board of Medical on the 26th day of September, 2017.
